Welcome to your new look Déda brochure, combining all of our great classes, performances, CUBE events and Visual Arts programme in one place.

The purpose of this is to let you know about all the great things happening here. From classes for all ages to Salsa and Burlesque Clubs, there's always something to see, do and enjoy at Déda.

If you're a regular class attender, you might not have ever thought about coming to see a dance performance. Similarly, if you're a person who comes to the shows in our theatre, you might not have ever considered taking a dance or healthy living class yourself. Have a look inside, then come and get involved with everything that we do!

This brochure sees the re-launch of our popular classes for children and young people under the banner of the Déda Academy.

The purpose of the Academy is to clearly show the way that your child can progress from the age of 6 months (in our new Rompers class) right up to 19 and beyond. Our Academy classes contain all the elements that make-up a great dance experience: fitness, self-expression, challenge and fun! See pages 6-7 for full details.

In our Theatre this season, we're proud to present the next production from our resident company, as Maison Foo presents Memoirs of a Biscuit Tin in September. This funny and moving show uses a blend of puppetry, clowning and theatre to tell the story of an abandoned house and the memories which are contained within.

Later on in the season, we'll be presenting stunning contemporary dance from Laila Diallo in the multi-layered reflection on identity Sense of Self. Dance of a very different style comes from 2FaCed with Still Breathing, which combines stunning athleticism with some explosive abstract breaking.

Our CUBE café|bar will re-open in September, continuing to offer great food and excellent Fair Trade coffee in a relaxed, welcoming and child-friendly environment.

With another instalment of Derby Festé, fast becoming a highlight in the Derby calendar, alongside regular Salsa and Jazz nights, it's going to be a packed few months!

On Saturday mornings children (and some of their adults!) can let their imaginations run wild in Sarah's creative classes. Children have fun developing physical skills, and finding new ways to express themselves.

FESTÉ 2009

FRIDAY 4 SEPTEMBER TO SUNDAY 6 SEPTEMBER

Derby Festé 2009

THE URBAN EXTRAVAGANZA

Once again Déda is teaming up with QUAD and Derby LIVE to bring you Festé 09 and this year it promises to be even bigger and better. Festé is becoming a highlight of the Derby cultural calendar and the programme this year is sure to amaze and delight the vast crowds expected to flood onto the streets over this very special weekend.

Derby is changing and even though these are challenging times it is important to celebrate what a great place the city is to live and work in. Cathedral Green is a fantastic new outdoor venue in the city centre and we aim to showcase this new space for the people of Derby throughout the festival.

Cie des Quidams (France) open this year's festival with their weird and wonderful characters. They will be moving throughout various city centre locations before converging for a stunning visual climax. A traditional street party will form the background for a late night open air Céilidh allowing us to dance into the wee small hours.

Derby Jazz take the lead on a large-scale salsa procession that will involve hundreds of children playing and dancing to infectious Latin beats before the People's Stage kicks off with a line up of dance, music and comedy.

We are delighted to announce that international artists Transe Express will be performing their spectacular show Mobile Homme in the market place. This is a show which must be seen to be believed, as a giant human mobile is created and suspended from a crane high above the Market Square.

Street entertainers, film, installations, fringe events and pyrotechnics will all feature over

The Quartet

Robert Mitchell 3io

Jazz at CUBE

Derby Jazz has a well-earned reputation for bringing you the best that the jazz scene has to offer. We are delighted to bring you yet another impressive season of gigs in the CUBE café|bar.

Kicking off the new season on Friday 2 October, two leading lights of the British jazz scene, PAUL CLARVIS and LIAM NOBLE, present their unique, exquisite and casually joyous music.

Liam is one of the UK's most sophisticated jazz pianists, while Paul takes a completely individual approach to percussion. In performance, their improvisations become an open and empathetic conversation between two master improvisers.

In November, we present THE QUARTET, who in their own words make 'jazz... for people who don't really like jazz. Or at least think they don't.' Mixing elements of rock and jazz in a palpably English way, guitarist Jack Hues, who fronted Wang Chung, and pianist Sam Bailey write music taking in rock-band backbeat and gentle reflection, with nods to Miles Davis, Pink Floyd and Frank Zappa.

In December, we welcome back ROBERT MITCHELL 3io (previously at CUBE with violinist Omar Puente) with his new band, 3io.

The master Nu-jazz pianist and composer will present material from 3io's latest album The Greater Good (winner best jazz album in the Gilles Peterson WorldWide Awards 2009). Alongside bass player Tom Mason and drummer Richard Spaven, Robert has quietly developed his signature piano trio presence, honing influences including song, freeform jazz, hip-hop, folk, electronica and rock.

Sugar Shack

Presented by Déda and Apples & Snakes

Derby's very own lyricist extraordinaire, Rukus has been commissioned by Apples & Snakes as part of their My Place or Yours project, which looks at real and virtual spaces in five regions of England.

Rukus has created an explosive piece of lyrical theatre, exploring the East Midlands' Post Code boundaries and territories, through a series of residencies in schools, on the street and at Baby J studios. He will premiere the piece as part of Sugar Shack in October.

Don't forget, if you think you've got talent as a poet or a hip hop, soul or R&B artist, sign up on the night for one of the Sugar Shack's open-mic slots.

TICKETS: £6
(or FREE with tickets for Adventures in Anti-Cool – see page 15)

NO PARKING is a collective of Derby and Derbyshire based artists working in a variety of art forms. The artists share a desire to create interesting and unexpected creative work and explore ways to engage with their audience.

Sunday 6 September also brings a night of performance and music from NO PARKING to mark the opening of the exhibition and the end of another spectacular Festé weekend. See page 13 for details.

HEATHER DUNCAN's paintings are responses to landscapes which have had a lasting impact on her. Her large canvases reflect the dramatic moors of Northern England, where she was raised.

Heather's abstract work celebrates the emotional appeal of colour while revelling in the sensuousness of paint.

See page 17 for information about Heather's Art and Jazz performance with Bird Food.

JACKIE BERRIDGE's work explores playground politics and the hierarchies which exist in the colourful world of 'little people'. It is a journey to the darker side of childhood and an investigation into the wide spectrum of personalities who meet on a daily basis to play.

As an internationally renowned surface designer and illustrator, SARA TAYLOR is particularly interested in graphic, hand-drawn illustration and textile design. Drawing inspiration from nature and photographs taken around Derbyshire as well as Japanese illustration, she will be exhibiting some of her vibrant patterns and fun designs for everyday living.
